DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-2 and 4-27 in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that no restriction was done in the parent case, which was a PCT international application. This is not found persuasive because a continuing application of a PCT international application is restrictable under normal application rules filed in the US. In the instant case once and if a subgenus of compounds has been determined to allowable, the Examiner will allow the corresponding in scope method and process claims.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The elected species was found allowable over the prior art.
The searched was continued to a reasonable extent to determine the patentability of the genus.

MPEP---803.02 Restriction - Markush Claims

PRACTICE RE MARKUSH-TYPE CLAIMS

On the other hand, should no prior art be found that anticipates or renders obvious the elected species, the search of the Markush-type claim will be extended. If prior art is then found that anticipates or renders obvious the Markush-type claim with respect to a nonelected species, the Markush-type claim shall be rejected and claims to the nonelected species held withdrawn from further consideration. The prior art search, however, will not be extended unnecessarily to cover all nonelected species.

Claims 1-2, and 4-27 have been found allowable to the extent that they read on the genus of claim 1 wherein B is limited to the formula designated "1b".

3. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:

Art Unit: 1621

Non-examined subject matter still exists in the claims 1,2 and 4-34

It is suggested that applicant amend claims as suggested above and provide corresponding claims drawn to method of use and process of making these novel compounds.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.
